

Bubikon municipal strategy and action program

Following the general elections in March 2022, the Swiss municipality of Bubikon conducted a strategy process involving the municipal council and the administrative cadre to elaborate a long-term development strategy. We supported the municipality's efforts with creative work formats to enable the parties to formulate their goals and work out an action plan for the period 2023-2026. In a workshop about "collaboration culture", we also worked together with the administrative cadre to develop a cultural compass for the municipality.

Our services

- Coordination of process design and content development
- Provision of independent, expert input and content assessments
- Designing and moderating the work process and the municipal workshop seminar with stimulating and creative work formats from Design Thinking
- Conducting a workshop aimed at creating a culture of cooperation and a guiding culture compass.
